

PRIVACY POLICY

Trillium Investments respects the privacy of your personal information.

We collect non-public information about you either directly or from third parties with your authorization.

No personal information is disclosed unless required by law, permitted by law or with your specific authorization. Required disclosures are those made subject to a court order. Permitted disclosures include sharing information with employees on an as needed basis. Third party businesses may be given some of your information if it is needed to service your account with us.

Your information is privileged and will be released only under these specific circumstances.